NEW QUESTION: 1 Which of the following is NOT an administrative control?
A. Logical access control mechanisms
B. Change control procedures
C. Development of policies, standards, procedures and guidelines
D. Screening of personnel
Answer: A
Explanation: Explanation/Reference: It is considered to be a technical control. Logical is synonymous with Technical Control. That was the easy answer. There are three broad categories of access control: Administrative, Technical, and Physical. Each category has different access control mechanisms that can be carried out manually or automatically. All of these access control mechanisms should work in concert with each other to protect an infrastructure and its data. Each category of access control has several components that fall within it, as shown here:
Administrative Controls* Policy and procedures* Personnel controls* Supervisory structure* Security-awareness training* Testing
Physical Controls
Network segregation
Perimeter security
Computer controls
Work area separation
Data backups
Technical Controls
System access
Network architecture
Network access
Encryption and protocols
Control zone
Auditing
The following answers are incorrect :
Screening of personnel is considered to be an administrative control
Development of policies, standards, procedures and guidelines is considered to be an administrative control
Change control procedures is considered to be an administrative control.
