NEW QUESTION: 1Note: This question is part of a series of questions that present the same scenario. Each question in the series contains a unique solution that might meet the stated goals. Some question sets might have more than one correct solution, while others might not have a correct solution.After you answer a question in this section, you will NOT be able to return to it. As a result, these questions will not appear in the review screen.You need to configure the Office 365 subscription to ensure that Active Directory users can connect to Office 365 resources by using single sign-on (SSO).Solution: You run Convert-MsolDomainToFederated for the fabrikam.com domain and the contoso.com domain. Does this meet the goal?A. Yes*B. No*Answer: AExplanation:ExplanationThe Convert-MSOLDomainToFederated cmdlet converts the specified domain from standard authentication to single sign-on. This includes configuring the relying party trust settings between the Active Directory Federation Services 2.0 server and Microsoft Online. As part of converting a domain from standard authentication to single sign-on, each user must also be converted. This conversion happens automatically the next time a user signs in. No action is required by the administrator.References:

NEW QUESTION: 3 You are the project manager within an information technology department of a large retailer. In order to allow for better real-time tracking, in inventory control, and supply chain management, your company is financing a project to install and deploy RFID on all items of merchandise. As the project manager, you've just completed the select sellers' process, and selected a vendor to perform the RFID installation and deployment. After the contract is signed with the vendor, the account manager from the vendor calls to thank you for selecting them. As a thank-you gift, they'll be sending you a round-trip ticket to Hawaii for you and your family. How should you respond?
A. You can freely accept the gift, since you were not aware of the gift during the selection process. The gift did not influence your decision, and hence, there is no impropriety.
B. You should not accept the gift, unless the vendor is willing to extend this gift to other members of the project team.
C. You should freely accept the gift, as long as you tell the vendor to give you a gift privately.
D. You should not accept the gift, as it may give an appearance of impropriety.

Answer: C
