NEW QUESTION: 1 Passwords should be:
A. reused often to ensure the user does not forget the password.
B. changed every 30 days at the discretion of the user.
C. assigned by the security administrator for first time logon.
D. displayed on the screen so that the user can ensure that it has been entered properly.
Answer: C
Explanation: Initial password assignment should be done discretely by the security administrator. Passwords should be changed often (e.g., every 30 days); however, changing should not be voluntary, it should be required by the system. Systems should not permit previous passwords to be used again. Old passwords may have been compromised and would thus permit unauthorized access. Passwords should not be displayed in any form.
