NEW QUESTION: 1The BEST way to ensure that security settings on each platform are in compliance with information security policies and procedures is to:A. link policies to an independent standard.B. perform penetration testing.C. establish security baselines.D. implement vendor default settings.Answer: C*Explanation:Security baselines will provide the best assurance that each platform meets minimum criteria. Penetration testing will not be as effective and can only be performed periodically. Vendor default settings will not necessarily meet the criteria set by the security policies, while linking policies to an independent standard will not provide assurance that the platforms meet these levels of security.

NEW QUESTION: 3Which statement is correct concerning the trusted network detection (TND) feature?A. If enabled, and a CSD scan determines that a host is a member of an untrusted network, an administrator can configure the TND feature to prohibit an end user from launching the Cisco AnyConnect VPN Client.B. With TND, one result of a Cisco Secure Desktop basic scan on an endpoint is to determine whether a device is a member of a trusted or an untrusted network.C. When the user is inside the corporate network, TND can be configured to automatically disconnect a Cisco AnyConnect session.D. The Cisco AnyConnect 3.0 Client supports TND on Windows, Mac, and Linux platforms.Answer: C*Explanation:http://www.cisco.com/en/US/docs/security/vpn_client/anyconnect/anyconnect25/administration/guide/ac03features.htmlTrusted Network Detection Trusted Network Detection (TND) gives you the ability to have AnyConnect automatically disconnect a VPN connection when the user is inside the corporate network (the trusted network) and start the VPN connection when the user is outside the corporate network (the untrusted network). This feature encourages greater security awareness by initiating a VPN connection when the user is outside the trusted network. If AnyConnect is also running Start Before Logon (SBL), and the user moves into the trusted network, the SBL window displayed on the computer automatically closes. TND does not interfere with the ability of the user to manually establish a VPN connection. It does not disconnect a VPN connection that the user starts manually in the trusted network. TND only disconnects the VPN session if the user first connects in an untrusted network and moves into a trusted network. For example, TND disconnects the VPN session if the user makes a VPN connection at home and then moves into the corporate office. Because the TND feature controls the AnyConnect GUI and automatically initiates connections, the GUI should run at all times. If the user exits the GUI, TND does not automatically start the VPN connection. You configure TND in the AnyConnect profile. No changes are required to the ASA configuration.
