Microsoft SharePoint Server 2010 Search, index partitions are groups of query components, each of which holds a subset of the full text index and which return search results to the query originator. Each index partition is associated with a specific property database containing metadata associated with a specific set of crawled content. You can distribute the load of query servicing by adding index partitions to a Search Service Application and placing their query components on different farm servers. You can decide which servers in a farm will service queries by creating a query component on that server. If you want to balance the load of servicing queries across multiple farm servers, add query components to an index partition and associate them with the servers you want to service queries. See Add or remove a query component for more information. <http://technet.microsoft.com/en-us/library/ee805955.aspx>
