NEW QUESTION: 4 What happens when you run terraform plan? A. It shows the operator the course of action that would be taken if a change is applied. B. It deletes all existing resources and re-creates them. C. It configures, reconfigures, and instantiates resources and their dependencies. D. It shows a dependency graph. Answer: A Explanation: Explanation References: The terraform plan command is used to create an execution plan. Terraform performs a refresh, unless explicitly disabled, and then determines what actions are necessary to achieve the desired state specified in the configuration files. This command is a convenient way to check whether the execution plan for a set of changes matches your expectations without making any changes to real resources or to the state. For example, terraform plan might be run before committing a change to version control, to create confidence that it will behave as expected.
