There are several "RESERVED" labels numbered from 0 to 15: 0 - explicit NULL - is used to preserve QoS info through EXP bits. It copies 'ip prec' or DiffServ. 1 - Router alert label - forces LSR to software switch the packet. 3 - Implicit NULL - this label is used for "connected" or "summary" routes. This way LSR signals its neighbors to execute "POP label" operation on "connected" routes. It is called PHP, Penultimate Hop Popping, and is used to make sure that LSR does not perform 2 lookups (label + ip). 14 - OEM alert label - is used for monitoring purpose.
