Azure Active Directory (Azure AD) Connect is used to extend identity management to Azure.The company has an Azure subscription. Each office has an Azure ExpressRoute connection to the subscription. The New York office connects to a virtual network hosted in the US East 2 Azure region. Kit (ASDK) deployment that is used for development and testing. Current Business Model Contoso has a web app named Bookings hosted in an App Service Environment (ASE). The ASE is in the virtual network in the East US 2 region. Contoso employees and customers use Bookings to reserve hotel rooms. Data Environment Bookings connects to a Microsoft SQL Server database named hotelDB in the New York office. The database has a view named vwAvailability that consolidates columns from three tables named Hotels, Rooms, and RoomAvailability. The database contains data that was collected during the last 20 years.

Problem Statements Contoso identifies the following issues with its current business model:*

- * European users report that access to Bookings is slow, and they lose customers who must wait on the phone while they search for available rooms.

- * The new Bookings app must be available to users in North America and Europe if a single data center or Azure region fails.
- * For continuous improvement, you must be able to test Butler by sending sample utterances and comparing the chatbot's responses to the actual intent.

NEW QUESTION: 3 Your company has an Active Directory domain. The company has two domain controllers named DC1 and DC2. DC1 holds the Schema Master role. DC1 fails. You log on to Active Directory by using the administrator account. You are not able to transfer the Schema Master operations role. You need to ensure that DC2 holds the Schema Master role. What should you do?

A. On DC2, seize the Schema Master role.
B. Configure DC2 as a bridgehead server.
C. Log off and log on again to Active Directory by using an account that is a member of the Schema Administrators group. Start the Active Directory Schema snap-in.
D. Register the Schmmgmt.dll. Start the Active Directory Schema snap-in.

Answer: A Explanation: On DC2, seize the Schema Master role.

<http://technet.microsoft.com/en-us/library/cc816645%28v=ws.10%29.aspx> Transfer the Schema Master You can use this procedure to transfer the schema operations master role if the domain controller that currently hosts the role is inadequate, has failed, or is being decommissioned. The schema master is a forest-wide operations master (also known as flexible single master operations or FSMO) role. Note: You perform this procedure by using a Microsoft Management Console (MMC) snap-in, although you can also transfer this role by using Ntdsutil.exe. Membership in Schema Admins, or equivalent, is the minimum required to complete this procedure.

<http://technet.microsoft.com/en-us/library/cc794853%28v=ws.10%29.aspx> Seize the AD LDS Schema Master Role The schema master is responsible for performing updates to the Active Directory Lightweight Directory Services (AD LDS) schema. Each configuration set has only one schema master. All write operations to the AD LDS schema can be performed only when connected to the AD LDS instance that holds the schema master role within its configuration set. Those schema updates are replicated from the schema master to all other instances in the configuration set. Membership in the AD LDS Administrators group, or equivalent, is the minimum required to complete this procedure. Caution: Do not seize the schema master role if you can transfer it instead. Seizing the schema master role is a drastic step that should be considered only if the current operations master will never be available again.
