NEW QUESTION: 2 Which four statements about SeND for IPv6 are correct? (Choose four.) A. It protects against rogue RAs. B. It authorizes routers to advertise certain prefixes. C. Neighbor identity protection is provided by Cryptographically Generated Addresses that are derived from a Diffie-Hellman key exchange. D. NDP exchanges are protected by IPsec SAs and provide for anti-replay. E. It defines secure extensions for NDP. F. It provides a method for secure default router election on hosts. G. It is facilitated by the Certification Path Request and Certification Path Response ND messages. Answer: A,B,E,F Explanation: Secure Neighbor Discovery is a protocol that enhances NDP with three additional capabilities: Address ownership proof-Makes stealing IPv6 addresses "impossible"-Used in router discovery, DAD, and address resolution-Based upon Cryptographically Generated Addresses (CGAs)-Alternatively also provides non-CGAs with certificates Message protection-Message integrity protection-Replay protection-Request/response correlation-Used in all NDP messages Router authorization-Authorizes routers to act as default gateways-Specifies prefixes that routers are authorized to announce "on-link" While SeND provides a significant uplift to the IPv6 neighbor discovery technology by introducing the above enhancements, it does not, for example, provide any end-to-end security and provides no confidentiality. It is important to understand that SeND is not a new protocol and still remains a protocol operating on the link. Secure Neighbor Discovery is just an "extension" to NDP and defines a set of new attributes: New network discovery options CGA, Nonce1, Timestamp, and RSA Purpose: These options provide a security shield against address theft and replay attacks. New network discovery messages CPS (Certificate Path Solicitation), CPA2 (Certificate Path Advertisement) Purpose: Identifying valid and authorized IPv6 routers and IPv6 prefixes of the network segment. These two messages complement the already existing NDP messages (NS, NA, RA, RS, and Redirect). New rules Purpose: These rules describe the preferred behavior when a SeND node receives a message supported by SeND or not supported by SeND. SeND technology works by having a pair of private and public keys for each IPv6 node in combination with the new options (CGA, Nonce, Timestamp, and RSA). Nodes that are using SeND cannot choose their own interface identifier because the interface identifier is cryptographically generated based upon the current IPv6 network prefix and the "public" key. However, the CGA interface identifier alone is not sufficient to guarantee that the CGA address is used by the appropriate node. For this purpose SeND messages are signed by usage of the RSA public and private keypair. For example if node 1 wants to know the MAC address of node 2, it will traditionally send a neighbor solicitation request to the node 2 solicited node multicast address. Node 2 will respond with a corresponding neighbor advertisement containing the MAC address to IPv6 address mapping. Node 2 will in addition add the CGA parameters (which include among others the public key) and a private key signature of all neighbor advertisement fields. When node 1 receives this neighbor advertisement it uses the public key to verify with the CGA address the private key signature of node 2. Once this last step has been successfully completed, the binding on node 1 of the MAC address and CGA address of node 2 can be successfully finalized. Note that the above mechanism is simply an explanation to verify the correct relationship between a node MAC address and its CGA IPv6 address. SeND does not check any of the node's privileges to be allowed, or not allowed, on the network. If this is required, other means of infrastructure protection will be required (such as 802.1x).
