NEW QUESTION: 1What are the benefit of using Netflow? (Choose three.)A. Accounting/Billing
B. Network PlanningC. Security AnalysisD. Network, Application & User MonitoringAnswer: A,C,D Explanation:Explanation/Reference:Explanation:NetFlow Definitions and Benefits
http://www.cisco.com/en/US/products/sw/netmgts/ps1964/products_implementation_design_guide09186a00800d6a11.html#wp1030045NetFlow traditionally enables several key customer applications including:Network Monitoring--NetFlow data enables extensive near real time network monitoring capabilities. Flowbased analysis techniques may be utilized to visualize traffic patterns associated with individual routers and switches as well as on a network-wide basis (providing aggregate traffic or application based views) to provide proactive problem detection, efficient troubleshooting, and rapid problem resolution.Application Monitoring and Profiling--NetFlow data enables network managers to gain a detailed, time based, view of application usage over the network. This information is used to plan, understand new services, and allocate network and application resources (e.g. Web server sizing and VoIP deployment) to responsively meet customer demands.User Monitoring and Profiling--NetFlow data enables network engineers to gain detailed understanding of customer/user utilization of network and application resources. This information may then be utilized to efficiently plan and allocate access, backbone and application resources as well as to detect and resolve potential security and policy violations. Network Planning--NetFlow can be used to capture data over a long period of time producing the opportunity to track and anticipate network growth and plan upgrades to increase the number of routing devices, ports, or higher-bandwidth interfaces. NetFlow services data optimizes network planning including peering, backbone upgrade planning, and routing policy planning. NetFlow helps to minimize the total cost of network operations while maximizing network performance, capacity, and reliability. NetFlow detects unwanted WAN traffic, validates bandwidth and Quality of Service (QOS) and allows the analysis of new network applications. NetFlow will give you valuable information to reduce the cost of operating your network.Security Analysis--NetFlow identifies and classifies DDOS attacks, viruses and worms in real-time.Changes in network behavior indicate anomalies that are clearly demonstrated in NetFlow data. The data is also a valuable forensic tool to understand and replay the history of security incidents.Accounting/Billing--NetFlow data provides fine-grained metering (e.g. flow data includes details such as IP addresses, packet and byte counts, timestamps, type-of-service and application ports, etc.) for highly flexible and detailed resource utilization accounting. Service providers may utilize the information for billing based on time-of-day, bandwidth usage, application usage, quality of service, etc. Enterprise customers may utilize the information for departmental charge-back or cost allocation for resource utilization. NetFlow Data Warehousing and Data Mining--NetFlow data (or derived information) can be warehoused for later retrieval and analysis in support of proactive marketing and customer service programs (e.g. figure out which applications and services are being utilized by internal and external users and target them for improved service, advertising, etc.). In addition, NetFlow data gives Market Researchers access to the "who", "what", "where", and "how long" information relevant to enterprises and service providers.

NEW QUESTION: 2 A company is migrating its on-premises systems to AWS. The user environment consists of the following systems: * Windows and Linux virtual machines running on VMware. * Physical servers running Red Hat Enterprise Linux. The company wants to be able to perform the following steps before migrating to AWS: * Identify dependencies between on-premises systems. * Group systems together into applications to build migration plans. * Review performance data using Amazon Athena to ensure that Amazon EC2 instances are right-sized. How can these requirements be met? A. Populate the AWS Application Discovery Service import template with information from an on-premises configuration management database (CMDB). Upload the completed import template to Amazon S3, then import the data into Application Discovery Service. B. Install the AWS Application Discovery Service Discovery Connector on each of the on-premises systems and in VMware vCenter. Allow the Discovery Connector to collect data for one week. C. Install the AWS Application Discovery Service Discovery Agent on the physical on-premises servers. Install the AWS Application Discovery Service Discovery Connector in VMware vCenter. Allow the Discovery Agent to collect data for a period of time. D. Install the AWS Application Discovery Service Discovery Agent on each of the on-premises systems. Allow the Discovery Agent to collect data for a period of time. Answer: B
