NEW QUESTION: 2 Note: This question is part of a series of questions that present the same scenario. Each question in the series contains a unique solution that might meet the stated goals. Some question sets might have more than one correct solution, while others might not have a correct solution. After you answer a question in this section, you will NOT be able to return to it. As a result, these questions will not appear in the review screen. You have an Azure SQL database that has columns. The columns contain sensitive Personally Identifiable Information (PII) data. You need to design a solution that tracks and stores all the queries executed against the PII data. You must be able to review the data in Azure Monitor, and the data must be available for at least 45 days. Solution: You add classifications to the columns that contain sensitive data. You turn on Auditing and set the audit log destination to use Azure Blob storage. Does this meet the goal? A. No B. Yes Answer: B Explanation: Explanation Auditing has been enhanced to log sensitivity classifications or labels of the actual data that were returned by the query. This would enable you to gain insights on who is accessing sensitive data.
