A DNS database can be partitioned into multiple zones. A zone is a portion of the DNS database that contains the resource records with the owner names that belong to the contiguous portion of the DNS namespace. Zone files are maintained on DNS servers. A single DNS server can be configured to host zero, one, or multiple zones. The new zone fabrikam.com is a totally new domain and zone and is thus in no way related to contoso.com. This is allowed as DNS servers are capable of hosting multiple, unrelated zones.
