Sie planen, mehrere virtuelle Azure-Maschinen bereitzustellen. Sie müssen sicherstellen, dass die auf den virtuellen Maschinen ausgeführten Dienste verfügbar sind, wenn ein einzelnes Rechenzentrum ausfällt. Lösung: Sie stellen die virtuellen Maschinen in zwei oder mehr Regionen bereit. Erfüllt dies das Ziel? A. Ja B. Nein Answer: A Explanation: Explanation By deploying the virtual machines to two or more regions, you are deploying the virtual machines to multiple datacenters. This will ensure that the services running on the virtual machines are available if a single data center fails. Azure operates in multiple datacenters around the world. These datacenters are grouped in to geographic regions, giving you flexibility in choosing where to build your applications. You create Azure resources in defined geographic regions like 'West US', 'North Europe', or 'Southeast Asia'. You can review the list of regions and their locations. NEW QUESTION: 3 Cisco was approached by the Minister of the Education Department, to start an experiment in one of the public school districts since the government passed a Bill that all schools are to comply with the Safe Schools Initiative. The situation at the schools in this district is as follows: The district has approximately 3000 students dispersed in the following manner: - one high school, one junior high school and three grade schools. All the phone calls to these schools are switched by a local telephone company's centrex switch after which it is routed to the appropriate school. The schools are all fitted with fractional T1 Frame Relay and Cisco routers for networking purposes. The users are on a switched 10/1/100 network utilizing Cisco switched and Category 5 cable. The high school has the Internet access through an Internet Service Provider which resides 35 miles away via a T1 Frame Relay. This internet connection is shared with the other schools in the district. Due to the Safe Schools Initiative, phones need to be put in each classroom. Though the costs are astronomical and there are no facilities, the schools would also want to install video in each school for video conferencing purposes and it will be a definite aid in distance learning for the high school. ISDN PRI LINKS will be used to connect the video partners. In addition to the above, there is also the student information; that is stored on the local servers and shared between the schools as learners graduate from elementary to junior high to high school as well as transfers in and out of the district; that has to be protected. Why would you, the network administrator at Cisco, suggest IP telephony to this particular customer? (Choose all that apply.) A. The cost of adding additional telephones is minimal. B. Eliminate reliance on local provider for any future phone calls. C. All of the above. D. Reduction of long distance charges by using VoIP. E. Voice, video and data run on the same physical media, namely, Cat5 cable. Answer: A, E Explanation: A. In a converged network, voice, video and integrated data runs on the same physical media. D. The cost is reduced and minimized by requiring less from the telephone service provider. Incorrect: B: Chapter 17, CCDA Exam Certification Guide: Page 435 The introduction of packet-voice technology allows the convergence of data and voice networks --- which lets companies save toll charges on voice telephone calls and reduce their total cost of ownership by not having to build and operate networks for voice, video, and data. Long distances charges are reduced when the remote site is part of the IP network. In this case, the schools are part of a local school district and any long distance calls would not apply to this rule. C: Calls that are placed between offices through the private voice network are called on-net. If a user needs to place a call outside the private network, the call is routed to the local PSTN. If the call is forwarded to the PSTN, it is called off-net. Because not all calls are point to point the need for local company still exists.
