The backups for the new VMs failed with the following error: Event Code: 30931 - Failed to initiate a backup or restore of a virtual machine because no proxy was found to service the virtual machine. What caused this error?
A. Not enough space is allocated on the proxy server to mount VM snaps
B. Proxy host has not been given backup privilege in the vCenter
C. Proxy server is not provisioned on the new datastore
D. New datastore is not selected for the proxy server in Avamar Administrator
Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 2Activity A has a duration of three days and begins on the morning of Monday the 4th. The successor activity, B, has a finish-to-start relationship with A. The finish-to-start relationship has three days of lag, and activity B has a duration of four days. Sunday is a non workday. Such data can help to determine _____
A. Calendar time between the start of A to the finish of B is 14 days
B. The total duration of both activities is 8 days
C. The finish date of B is Wednesday the 13th
D. Calendar time between the start of A to the finish of B is 11 days
Answer: D
Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Explanation: The duration of A, which is three, is added to the duration of B, which is four, for a total of seven. The three days between the activities is lag and not duration. The lag is a constraint and must be taken into account as part of the network calculations, but it does not consume resources. The total time by the calendar is 11 days as counted from the morning of Monday the 4th. The lag occurs over Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Sunday is a non workday, so activity B does not start until Monday the 11th. Therefore, the calendar time is 11 days, and activity B ends on Thursday the 14th.

NEW QUESTION: 4John works as a Network Administrator for Perfect Solutions Inc. The company has a Linux-based network. John is working as a root user on the Linux operating system. He has recently backed up his entire Linux hard drive into the my_backup.tgz file. The size of the my_backup.tgz file is 800MB. Now, he wants to break this file into two files in which the size of the first file named my_backup.tgz.aa should be 600MB and that of the second file named my_backup.tgz.ab should be 200MB. Which of the following commands will John use to accomplish his task?
A. split --verbose -b 200m my_backup.tgz my_backup.tgz
B. split --verbose -b 600m my_backup.tgz my_backup.tgz
C. split --verbose -b 600m my_backup.tgz my_backup.tgz
D. split --verbose -b 200m my_backup.tgz my_backup.tgz
Answer: B

Explanation:According to the scenario, John wants to break the my_backup.tgz file into two files in which the size of the first file named my_backup.tgz.aa should be 600MB and that of the second file named my_backup.tgz.ab should be 200MB. Hence, he will use the the split --verbose -b 600 my_backup.tgz my_backup.tgz. command, which will automatically break the first file into 600MB named my_backup.tgz.aa, and the rest of the data (200MB) will be assigned to the second file named my_backup.tgz.ab. The reason behind the names is that the split command provides suffixes as 'aa', 'ab', 'ac', ..., 'az', 'ba', 'bb', etc. in the broken file names by default. Hence, both conditions, the file names as well as the file sizes, match with this command. Note: If the size of the tar file my_backup.tgz is 1300MB, the command split --verbose -b 600 my_backup.tgz my_backup.tgz. breaks the my_backup.tgz file into three files, i.e., my_backup.tgz.aa of size 600MB, my_backup.tgz.ab of size 600MB, and my_backup.tgz.ac of size 100MB.
