NEW QUESTION: 4 Which two statements are true concerning Oracle 12c Clusterware-managed application VIPs? (Choose two.)
A. Application VIPs do not fail over to surviving cluster nodes when the node hosting the VIP fails.
B. If an application sends messages to be displayed and sets the DISPLAY variable, then an application VIP is required.
C. An application VIP is created on the interconnect network by the crsctl utility.
D. An application VIP can be created with the crsctl utility.
E. An application VIP is created on the default network by the appvipcfg utility.

Answer: D, E
Explanation: Oracle 11.2 introduced appvipcfg utility for creating VIPs. From the GRID_HOME/bin directory run the appvipcfg command to create the application VIP. Oracle Clusterware assigns this VIP to a physical server in the cluster and will migrate the VIP to a surviving node in the cluster in the event of a server failure.
Example: appvipcfg create -network=1 -ip=192.168.20.111 -vipname=MyTestVIP -user=grid
D: While you can add a VIP in the same way that you can add any other resource that Oracle Clusterware manages, Oracle recommends using the script Grid_home/bin/appvipcfg to create or delete an application VIP.
