NEW QUESTION: 1 SIMULATION A security administrator discovers that an attack has been completed against a node on the corporate network. All available logs were collected and stored. You must review all network logs to discover the scope of the attack, check the box of the node(s) that have been compromised and drag and drop the appropriate actions to complete the incident response on the network. The environment is a critical production environment; perform the LEAST disruptive actions on the network, while still performing the appropriate incident responses. Instructions: The web server, database server, IDS, and User PC are clickable. Check the box of the node (s) that have been compromised and drag and drop the appropriate actions to complete the incident response on the network. Not all actions may be used, and order is not important. If at any time you would like to bring back the initial state of the simulation, please select the Reset button. When you have completed the simulation, please select the Done button to submit. Once the simulation is submitted, please select the Next button to continue. Answer: Explanation: See the solution below. Explanation/Reference: Explanation: Database server was attacked, actions should be to capture network traffic and Chain of Custody. IDS Server Log: Web Server Log: Database Server Log: Users PC Log:

NEW QUESTION: 2 A database administrator would like to start encrypting database exports stored on the SAN, but the storage administrator warns that this may drastically increase the amount of disk space used by the exports. Which of the following explains the reason for the increase in disk space usage? A. Deduplication is not compatible with encryption B. Encrypted files are much larger than unencrypted files C. The exports are being stored on smaller SAS drives D. The SAN already uses encryption at rest Answer: B Explanation: Section: Application, Data and Host Security Explanation/Reference: Explanation: Encryption adds overhead to the data which results in an increase in file size. This overhead is attached to each file and could include the encryption/decryption key, data recovery files and data decryption field in file header. As a result, requires increased storage space.
