Explanation:<http://support.microsoft.com/?id=231287>Group Policy applies to the user or computer in a manner that depends on where both the user and the computer objects are located in Active Directory. However, in some cases, users may need policy applied to them based on the location of the computer object alone. You can use the Group Policy loopback feature to apply Group Policy Objects (GPOs) that depend only on which computer the user logs on to.<http://technet.microsoft.com/en-us/windowsserver/cc817587>Managing Terminal ServicesWhat is loopback processing?Group Policy loopback processing can be used to alter the application of GPOs to a user by including GPOs based on the location of the computer object. The typical way to use loopback processing is to apply GPOs that depend on the computer to which the user logs on.
