NEW QUESTION: 1 Which of the following Excel functions finds a value in the leftmost column of a named range and returns the value from the specified cell with the found value? A. SUBTOTAL B. VLOOKUP C. IF D. IFERROR Answer: B Explanation: VLOOKUP (Vertical Lookup) is an Excel function that finds a value in the leftmost column of a named range and returns the value from the specified cell with the found value. Syntax: VLOOKUP(lookup_value, table_array, col_number, range_lookup) In the given syntax, lookup_value is the value to be found in the leftmost column of the range. table_array is the range or data table to be searched. col_number is the number of the column in the range from which the value is to be returned. range_lookup is a logical argument to find an approximate match in case the specified value is TRUE or an exact match in case the specified value is FALSE. Answer option B is incorrect. IF is a logical function, which is used to create a conditional formula. The return value of the IF function depends on the evaluation of the specified condition, whether it is TRUE or FALSE. The IF function conducts conditional tests on values and formulas. Syntax IF(logical_condition, value_when_true, value_when_false) Here, Logical_condition is any value or expression that can be evaluated to TRUE or FALSE. Value_when_true is the value that is returned if logical_condition is TRUE. Value_when_false is the value that is returned if logical_condition is FALSE. Note: Value_when_true and Value_when_false can be another formula. Nested conditional formulas can be constructed by using up to sixty-four IF functions to construct more elaborate tests. Answer option A is incorrect. The IFERROR function is used to enable users to display one value if a formula results in an error and another if it does not. It is used to trap and handle errors in a formula. It helps a user to create a custom error message instead of relying on default error messages. Answer option D is incorrect. SUBTOTAL is a function that is used to return the subtotal in a column of a list. Syntax: SUBTOTAL(function_num, ref1, ref2, ref3) In the syntax, function_num is the number 1 to 11 (includes hidden values) or 101 to 111 (ignores hidden values) that specifies which function to use in calculating subtotals within a list. Reference: Chapter: ADVANCED SPREADSHEETS Objective: Functions
