NEW QUESTION: 3You work as the senior project manager in SoftTech Inc. You are working on a software project using configuration management. Through configuration management you are decomposing the verification system into identifiable, understandable, manageable, traceable units that are known as Configuration Items (CIs). According to you, which of the following processes is known as the decomposition process of a verification system into Configuration Items? A. Configuration control B. Configuration auditing C. Configuration status accounting D. Configuration identification Answer: D Explanation: Configuration identification is known as the decomposition process of a verification system into Configuration Items. Configuration identification is the process of identifying the attributes that define every aspect of a configuration item. A configuration item is a product (hardware and/or software) that has an end-user purpose. These attributes are recorded in configuration documentation and baselined. Baselining an attribute forces formal configuration change control processes to be effected in the event that these attributes are changed. Answer D is incorrect. Configuration control is a procedure of the Configuration management. Configuration control is a set of processes and approval stages required to change a configuration item's attributes and to re-baseline them. It supports the change of the functional and physical attributes of software at various points in time, and performs systematic control of changes to the identified attributes. Configuration control is a means of ensuring that system changes are approved before being implemented. Only the proposed and approved changes are implemented, and the implementation is complete and accurate. Answer A is incorrect. The configuration status accounting procedure is the ability to record and report on the configuration baselines associated with each configuration item at any moment of time. It supports the functional and physical attributes of software at various points in time, and performs systematic control of accounting to the identified attributes for the purpose of maintaining software integrity and traceability throughout the software development life cycle. Answer C is incorrect. Configuration auditing is the quality assurance element of configuration management. It is occupied in the process of periodic checks to establish the consistency and completeness of accounting information and to validate that all configuration management policies are being followed. Configuration audits are broken into functional and physical configuration audits. They occur either at delivery or at the moment of effecting the change. A functional configuration audit ensures that functional and performance attributes of a configuration item are achieved, while a physical configuration audit ensures that a configuration item is installed in accordance with the requirements of its detailed design documentation.

NEW QUESTION: 4 A large company is preparing to merge with a smaller company. The smaller company has been very profitable, but the smaller company's main applications were created in-house. Which of the following actions should the large company's security administrator take in preparation for the merger?A. A security assessment should be performed to establish the risks of integration or co-existence.B. A regression test should be performed on the in-house software to determine security risks associated with the software.C. An ROI calculation should be performed to determine which company's application should be used.D. A review of the mitigations implemented from the most recent audit findings of the smaller company should be performed.Answer: A*Explanation:With any merger regardless of the monetary benefit there is always security risks and prior to the merger the security administrator should assess the security risks to as to mitigate these.Incorrect Answers:A: This is the concern of the smaller organization and not the bigger company for which the security administrator is working.B: The Cost benefit analysis (ROI) is done as part of the phased changeover process.D: A regression test is used after a change to validate that inputs and outputs are correct, not prior to a merger.References:Project Management Institute, A Guide to the Project Management Body of Knowledge (PMBOK Guide),5 th Edition, Project Management Institute, Inc., Newtown Square, 2013, p. 345Gregg, Michael, and Billy Haines, CASP CompTIA Advanced Security Practitioner Study Guide, JohnWiley & Sons, Indianapolis, 2012, pp. 148, 165, 337
