NEW QUESTION: 1 DRAG DROP You need to configure the SharePoint environment for App1. Which three actions should you perform in sequence? (To answer, move the appropriate actions from the list of actions to the answer area and arrange them in the correct order.)
Select and Place:
Answer: Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Scenario: A new remote web application named App1 will be hosted in the adatum.com domain. App1 will require access to SharePoint resources in the fabrikam.com domain. SharePoint administrators in the fabrikam.com domain must be able to administer App1 by using Windows PowerShell. Fabrikam has an AD DS domain named fabrikam.com. Fabrikam users must be able to directly access internal SharePoint resources in the adatum.com domain. Datum users must not be able to access resources in the fabrikam.com domain. SharePoint administrators in the fabrikam.com domain must be able to administer App1 by using Windows PowerShell. -> App1 is Service Application A trust relationship must be established between SharePoint farms that share service application functionality. In this relationship, one SharePoint farm (the "publisher") publishes a service application that can then be consumed by a different SharePoint farm (the "consumer"). This relationship is established in a secure fashion via the use of three distinct certificates: A root certificate, which is exported from the "consuming" farm An STS certificate, which is exported from the consuming farm Another root certificate, which is exported from the "publishing" farm You have to copy the files between farms, as follows: Copy the ConsumingFarmRoot.cer and ConsumingFarmSTS.cer files from the consuming farm to the publishing farm. Copy the PublishingFarmRoot.cer file from the publishing farm to the consuming farm. Establishing the trust on the consuming farm The trust is established on the consuming farm when the publishing farm's root certificate is imported (using the New-SPTrustedRootAuthority cmdlet). Follow these steps: Open the SharePoint 2013 Management Shell (run as administrator) on the consuming farm. Locate the publishing root certificate on the file system (C:\PublishingFarmRoot.cer). Run the following Windows PowerShell to create the new Trusted Root Authority and call the farm PublishingFarm. Establishing the trust on the publishing farm The trust is established on the Publishing farm when the Consuming farm's root certificate is imported (using the New-SPTrustedRootAuthority cmdlet). Open the SharePoint 2013 Management Shell (run as Administrator) on the Publishing farm. Locate the consuming root certificate on the file system (C:\ConsumingFarmRoot.cer). Run the following Windows PowerShell to create the new Trusted Root Authority. Call the farm ConsumingFarm: * Add Certificate to the SharePoint Trusted Root Certificate Authority Step 1: Export the Security Certificate Here from Fabrikam. Step 2: Import the Security Certificate into SharePoint Trusted Root Certificate authority Here in Adatum.com Reference: Add Certificate to the SharePoint Trusted Root Certificate Authority With regards to configuring the SharePoint farms at both sides to service App1. User (NL, 19.05.13): It is not evident what answers would be correct. Reading through <http://technet.microsoft.com/en-us/library/ff621100.aspx> I noticed the following text: > Web applications or application services that request resources from an application service on another farm do not require server-to-server authentication. This is in line with two lines from the scenario: App1 will require access to SharePoint resources in the fabrikam.com domain. A Datum users must not be able to access resources in the fabrikam.com domain. An identity provider is not required as the user identity should not be part of the communication between App1 and fabrikam.com! Albeit misleading; cross farm trust is mostly applied to service applications. Possibly App1 is a service application? So one should only configure Exchange trust certificates between farms in SharePoint 2013, see <http://technet.microsoft.com/en-us/library/ee704552.aspx> > An administrator of the consuming farm must provide two trust certificates to the publishing farm: a root certificate and a security token service (STS) certificate. An administrator of the publishing farm must provide a root certificate to the consuming farm. In my opinion the right answers to give are thus: From the adatum.com SharePoint environment, export the security token certificate. From the Fabrikam.com SharePoint environment, create a trusted root authority. From the adatum.com SharePoint environment, create a trusted root authority. Strangely, the sequence of these three steps is irrelevant; as they are independent, without mentioning the other required steps involved.

NEW QUESTION: 2 HOTSPOT Your network contains an Active Directory domain named contoso.com. The domain contains a server named Server1 that runs Windows Server 2012 R2. Server1 has the Active Directory Federation Services (AD FS) server role installed. Adatum.com is a partner organization. You are helping the administrator of adatum.com set up a federated trust between adatum.com and contoso.com. The administrator of adatum.com asks you to provide a file containing the federation metadata of contoso.com. You need to identify the location of the federation metadata file. Which node in the AD FS console should you select? To answer, select the appropriate node in the answer area. Answer: Explanation: Explanation: See figure below.

NEW QUESTION: 3 FQLN can be set for an AP: (Select two) A. At the factory B. Using the FQLN mapper tool C. By DHCP when an address is requested D. During AP provisioning E. Using the AP wizard Answer: B,D
