NEW QUESTION: 1You install a SQL Server 2012 database engine instance on a production server. A month later, you install SQL Server 2012 Integration Services (SSIS). You must develop an SSIS project and deploy it to the server by using the Project Deployment model. Operations Log records that are outside the configured retention period must be cleaned automatically. You need to create the SSIS catalog on the production server and ensure that the operations log cleaning requirement is met. Which two actions should you perform? Each correct answer presents PART OF THE SOLUTION. A. Enable the resource Governor. B. Change the recovery mode of the msdb database to FULL. C. Enable CLR Integration. D. Enable FILESTREAM with Full Access. E. Start the SQL Server Agent service. F. Change the Server-wide Default Logging Level in SSISDB to Verbose. G. Start the SQL Server Browser service. Answer: C, E
Explanation/Reference: Explanation: B: SSIS projects, packages, parameters, environments, and operational history are all stored in the SSISDB database so if you have hundreds of SSIS packages or packages that run every few minutes you could see how the database storing all the historical information would grow exponentially. Also included when you enable this feature is a SQL Server Agent Job called SSIS Server Maintenance job. E: To create the SSISDB catalog in SQL Server Management Studio. 1. Open SQL Server Management Studio. 2. Connect to the SQL Server Database Engine. 3. In Object Explorer, expand the server node, right-click the Integration Services Catalogs node, and then click Create Catalog. 4. Click Enable CLR Integration. The catalog uses CLR stored procedures. Etc. NEW QUESTION: 2Which two are regarding the case of storage indexes? A. To increase the chance of using the a storage index, you can make table indexes invisible. B. To maximize the benefit of storage indexes, load your data stored on the filtered columns. C. The cell physical 10 bytes saved by storage index statistic returns multiple rows, one for each storage server. D. Avoid the use of bind variables because Storage Indexes do not work with bind variables. E. Storage indexes are retained after a cell is rebooted. Answer: A, B
Explanation: To use storage indexes, Oracle Exadata queries must use smart scans, so not all types of applications can benefit from storage indexes. * With Exadata storage, database operations are handled much more efficiently. Queries that perform table scans can be processed within Exadata storage with only the required subset of data returned to the database server. Row filtering, column filtering and some join processing (among other functions) are performed within the Exadata storage cells. When this takes place only the relevant and required data is returned to the database server.
