NEW QUESTION: 4 Diane is the HR Professional for her organization and she's examining the ranges for the compensation levels of her company. Which one of the following statements best describes what a range for compensation is? A. A range specifies the lowest/minimum and the highest/maximum compensation rates for the worth of responsibilities. B. A range specifies the lowest/minimum and the highest/maximum compensation rates for which positions with each grade are generally paid. C. A range specifies the lowest/minimum and the highest/maximum value for which employees are generally paid through incentives. D. A range specifies the lowest/minimum and the highest/maximum compensation rates for which positions with each grade are federally mandated that employees be paid. Answer: B

Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Answer option C is correct. A range is the space between the minimum and maximum pay for the type of work or role an employee satisfies in an organization. Answer option D is incorrect. A range is not assigned to employees worth based on incentives. Answer option B is incorrect. Ranges are not federally mandated so this choice is not valid. Answer option A is incorrect. The choice isn't valid because it's not the worth of the responsibilities, but the range of pay from minimum to maximum for employees.
