NEW QUESTION: 3Your customer manages a print media environment, consisting of three Isilon clusters, which are out of support. The customer would like to have access to new software releases and feature sets. You have been asked to perform a full discovery of the customer's environment. The customer's current Isilon clusters are as follows: "Cust" (12 x 12000X) serves as upload media storage for different tenants. Complete collection of E20-357 Exam's Question and answers. "Working" (8 x 12000X + 6 x X200) serves as a working zone for extraction to RAW and printing media from it. "Archive" (16 x 72NL + Accelerator nodes) is used to store printed content for six months. The customer operates in a Windows environment using SMB 2.0, two DNS servers per AD forest, three forest domains which are servicing three different environments. All servers are operating on a 1Gb network, three VLANs segregating the DEV/QA/PROD environments. Currently, there is no monitoring in place for performance measurement or optimization. The requirements for this solution include: * Better ROI and TCO * Maintain same performance with possible improvements * Renew HW/SW and get inclusive support * Limit migrations * Reduce space, power, cooling consumption * Get new feature sets * If migration required, use Parallel copy (multiple nodes, multiple threads, multiple connections) * Segregate tenant shares from other tenants * Expand up to 1PB of total storage

What steps need to be taken on the clusters to meet the customer requirements?

A. Consolidate three clusters into one, expand to meet existing performance and needed capacity by using SnapshotIQ to migrate data from existing clusters. Use SmartPools to segregate tenants

B. Consolidate three clusters into one, expand to meet existing performance and needed capacity by using SyncIQ to migrate data from existing clusters. Use Access Zones to segregate tenants

C. Buy maintenance support and upgrade nodes on existing clusters to match 1PB storage, eliminate the need for migrations, and have complete tenant segregation

D. Use block storage to fulfill customer requirements

Answer: B
