NEW QUESTION: 1Your company has four offices that are connected by using high speed wide area network (WAN) links. Each office has a router that supports the Simple Certificate Enrollment Protocol (SCEP). The network consists of one Active Directory domain. All domain controllers run Windows Server 2008. You have a Certificate Services infrastructure. The Certificate Services servers run Windows Server 2003 Standard Edition. You plan to enable device authentication for all routers. You need to recommend changes to the Certificate Services infrastructure to support device authentication. Which changes should you recommend?A. Install a new server that runs Windows Server 2008 Standard Edition. Install the Network Protection and Access Services (NPAS) role.B. Upgrade the existing Certificate Services servers to Windows Server 2008 Enterprise Edition. Enable the Network Device Enrollment service.C. Upgrade the existing Certificate Services servers to Windows Server 2008 Standard Edition. Enable the Web enrollment component.D. Install a new server that runs Windows Server 2008 Enterprise Edition. Enable the Active Directory Certificate Services (AD CS) role.Answer: B
Explanation: SCEP = NDES (Network Device Enrollment service) - ALWAYS! The Simple Certificate Enrollment Protocol (SCEP) Add-on for Certificate Services runs on Windows Server 2003 family. It provides support for the SCEP protocol which allows Cisco routers and other intermediate network devices to obtain certificates. This update addresses the following issue: Added support for clients that do not supply the Key Usage in the PKCS#10 request to the certificate authority (CA). This update will allow the CA to accept a request where no Key Usage is specified in the request. The CA will include the proper Key Usage automatically in the issued certificate. The Network Device Enrollment Service (NDES) is the Microsoft implementation of the Simple Certificate Enrollment Protocol (SCEP), a communication protocol that makes it possible for software running on network devices such as routers and switches, which cannot otherwise be authenticated on the network, to enroll for X.509 certificates from a certification authority (CA).
