NEW QUESTION: 1 Which protocol used to map username to user groups when user-ID is configured?
A. TACACS+ B. RADIUS C. SAML D. LDAP
Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 2 A customer wishes to provide a VMware administrator with storage capacity to manage the volume creation. The system only has one storage pool. How should the customer configure the existing system to limit the capacity provided to the administrator?
A. Use IBM Spectrum Control Base B. Create one large volume C. Create another storage pool with new storage D. Create a child pool
Answer: D
Explanation: Before V7.4, the disk space of a storage pool was provided from MDisks, so the capacity of a storage pool depended on the MDisks' capacity. Creating or splitting a storage pool is not possible and a user cannot freely make a storage pool with a particular capacity they want. A child pool is a new logical object that is created from a physical storage pool and provides most of the functions that Pools have (for example, volume creation), but the user can specify the capacity of the child pool at creation. A child pool is an object similar to a storage pool, and can be used interchangeably with a storage pool. It supports volume copy and migration.
