NEW QUESTION: 1 A Windows Communication Foundation (WCF) solution uses the following contracts. (Line numbers are included for reference only.)
01 [ServiceContract(CallbackContract = typeof(INameService))]02 public interface IGreetingService03 {04 [OperationContract]05 string GetMessage();06 }08 [ServiceContract]09 public interface INameService10 {11 [OperationContract]12 string GetName();13 }
When the client calls GetMessage on the service interface, the service calls GetName on the client callback. In the client, the class NameService implements the callback contract. The client channel is created as follows.
22 In stanceContext callbackContext = new InstanceContext(new NameService("client"));25 DuplexChannelFactory<IGreetingService> factory = new DuplexChannelFactory<IGreetingService>(typeof(NameService), binding, address);26 IGreetingService greetingService = factory.CreateChannel();
You need to ensure that the service callback is processed by the instance of NameService. What are two possible ways to achieve this goal? (Each correct answer presents a complete solution. Choose two.)
A. Add the following code segment after line 26.
callbackContext.IncomingChannels.Add((IDuplexChannel)greetingService);
B. Change line 25 to the following code segment. DuplexChannelFactory<IGreetingService> factory = new DuplexChannelFactory<IGreetingService>(callbackContext, binding, address);
C. Change line 26 to the following code segment. IGreetingService greetingService = factory.CreateChannel(callbackContext);
D. Add the following code segment after line 26.
callbackContext.OutgoingChannels.Add((IDuplexChannel)greetingService);
Answer: B,C

NEW QUESTION: 2 Your network contains an Active Directory domain named contoso.com. All domain controllers run Windows Server 2012 R2. The domain contains 500 client computers that run Windows 8.1 Enterprise. You implement a Group Policy central store. You have an application named App1. App1 requires that a custom registry setting be deployed to all of the computers. You need to deploy the custom registry setting. The solution must minimize administrator effort. What should you configure in a Group Policy object (GPO)?
A. The Software Installation settings
B. An application control policy
C. The Group Policy preferences
D. The Administrative Templates
Answer: C
Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Explanation: Open the Group Policy Management Console. Right-click the Group Policy object (GPO) that should contain the new preference item, and then click Edit. In the console tree under Computer Configuration or User Configuration, expand the Preferences folder, and then expand the Windows Settings folder. Right-click the Registry node, point to New, and select Registry Item. Group Policy preferences provide the means to simplify deployment and standardize configurations. They add to Group Policy a centralized system for deploying preferences (that is, settings that users can change later). You can also use Group Policy preferences to configure applications that are not Group Policy-aware. By using Group Policy preferences, you can change or delete almost any registry setting, file or folder, shortcut, and more. You are not limited by the contents of Administrative Template files. The Group Policy Management Editor (GPME) includes Group Policy preferences. References:
