Answer: D
Explanation: Explanation/Reference:
Explanation: Without Virtual Connect abstraction, changes to server hardware (for example, replacing the system board during a service event) typically implies changes to the MAC addresses and WWNs. The server administrator must then contact the LAN/SAN administrators, give them the updated addresses, and wait for them to make the appropriate updates to their infrastructure. With Virtual Connect, a server profile keeps the MAC addresses and WWNs constant, so the server administrator can apply the same networking profile to new hardware. This feature can significantly reduce the time required to complete a service event.
