NEW QUESTION: 1 Refer to the exhibit. An engineer is trying to redistribute OSPF to BGP, but not all of the routes are redistributed. What is the reason for this issue?
A. BGP convergence is slow, so the route will eventually be present in the BGP table
B. By default, only internal routes and external type 1 routes are redistributed into BGP
C. By default, only internal OSPF routes are redistributed into BGP
D. Only classful networks are redistributed from OSPF to BGP

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION: 2 Which of the following describes how the objective of a review of financial statements differs from the objective of a compilation engagement?
A. The primary objective of a review engagement is to provide positive assurance that the financial statements are fairly presented, but a compilation provides no such assurance.
B. In a review engagement, accountants provide limited assurance, but a compilation expresses no assurance.
C. In a review engagement, accountants provide reasonable or positive assurance that the financial statements are fairly presented, but a compilation provides limited assurance.
D. The primary objective of a review engagement is to test the completeness of the financial statements prepared, but a compilation tests for reasonableness.

Answer: B
Explanation:
Explanation/Reference: Explanation: Choice "C" is correct. A review provides limited assurance that there are no material modifications that should be made to the financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, whereas a compilation provides no assurance. Choice "A" is incorrect. A review does not test for completeness, nor does a compilation test for reasonableness. A review provides limited assurance about the financial statements based on inquiry and analytical review procedures, while a compilation provides no assurance and includes no testing for reasonableness. Choice "B" is incorrect. A review provides limited assurance that there are no material modifications that should be made to the financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, and it is based on inquiry and analytical review procedures. Positive assurance (such as an audit opinion) is only provided when more extensive procedures have been performed. Choice "D" is incorrect. A review provides limited assurance that there are no material modifications that should be made to the financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, and it is based on inquiry and analytical review procedures. Positive or reasonable assurance (such as an audit opinion) is only provided when more extensive procedures have been performed. A compilation provides no assurance at all.
