NEW QUESTION: 3You are currently performing the Select Sellers process. You are considering two bids from companies on your qualified sellers list. Your project is on a tight budget, and you have been instructed by senior management to consider the cost over any other criteria. You used the company that submitted the lower bid on a previous project, and you were not happy with their work. The company that submitted the higher bid has a reputation for treating their clients well, flying project managers first class and giving them accommodations in five-star hotels. What is the BEST way to handle this situation?A. Select the company with the lowest bidB. Give the manager at the company with the higher bid information that will allow him to tailor his bid so that it better meets your needsC. Select the company with the higher bid D. Rewrite the RFP so that the company with the lowest bid is excludedAnswer: AExplanation: There are a few really important ethical issues in this question. Your senior management was clear about the rules: go with the lowest bidder. And that's what you should do. But on top of that, you shouldn't choose your sellers based on perks that you'll get - that's called a bribe. And you should always refuse bribes.
