NEW QUESTION: 1 Which additional capability was added in IGMPv3? A. IPv6 support B. source filtering support C. authentication support between the multicast receivers and the last hop router D. group-specific host membership queries support E. leave group messages support
Answer: B
Explanation: IGMP is the protocol used by IPv4 systems to report their IP multicast group memberships to neighboring multicast routers. Version 3 of IGMP adds support for "source filtering", that is, the ability for a system to report interest in receiving packets *only* from specific source addresses, or from *all but* specific source addresses, sent to a particular multicast address. That information may be used by multicast routing protocols to avoid delivering multicast packets from specific sources to networks where there are no interested receivers.
