NEW QUESTION: 2 A Solutions Architect is helping a customer migrate an application to AWS. The application is composed of a fleet of Linux servers that currently use a shared file system to read and write data. One of the goals of moving this application to AWS is to increase the reliability of the storage tier. What solution would increase reliability while minimizing the operational overhead of managing this infrastructure? A. Create an S3 bucket that can be accessed through an S3 VPC Endpoint. B. Create two EC2 instances in separate Availability Zones that act as file servers. C. Create an EBS volume and mount it to all the servers. D. Create an EFS file system and mount it to all the servers. Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 3 An organization has launched 5 instances: 2 for production and 3 for testing. The organization wants that one particular group of IAM users should only access the test instances and not the production ones. How can the organization set that as a part of the policy? Please select: A. Define the tags on the test and production servers and add a condition to the IAM policy which allows access to specification tags B. Create an IAM policy with a condition which allows access to only small instances C. Define the IAM policy which allows access based on the instance ID D. Launch the test and production instances in separate regions and allow region wise access to the group Answer: A Explanation: Explanation Tags enable you to categorize your AWS resources in different ways, for example, by purpose, owner, or environment. This is useful when you have many resources of the same type - you can quickly identify a specific resource based on the tags you've assigned to it Option A is invalid because this is not a recommended practice Option B is invalid because this is an overhead to maintain this in policies Option C is invalid because the instance type will not resolve the requirement For information on resource tagging, please visit the below URL: http://docs.aws.amazon.com/AWSEC2/latest/UserGuide/Using_Tags.html The correct answer is: Define the tags on the test and production servers and add a condition to the IAM policy which allows access to specific tags Submit your Feedback/Queries to our Experts
