NEW QUESTION: 1 Which choice below is NOT a concern of policy development at the high level?
A. Determining the capability and functionality of each role
B. Identifying the key business resources
C. Identifying the type of firewalls to be used for perimeter security
D. Defining roles in the organization
Answer: C
Explanation: The other options are elements of policy development at the highest level. Key business resources would have been identified during the risk assessment process. The various roles are then defined to determine the various levels of access to those resources. Answer "Determining the capability and functionality of each role" is the final step in the policy creation process and combines steps a and "Defining roles in the organization". It determines which group gets access to each resource and what access privileges its members are assigned. Access to resources should be based on roles, not on individual identity.
