NEW QUESTION: 1A Big Data consulting company wants to separate its customers' workloads for billing and security reasons. The company would like to maintain billing and security controls on these workloads. According to best practices, how can the workloads be separated if no shared resources are needed?A. Require each customer to create their own account. Contact AWS Support to receive a consolidated bill.B. Dedicate an AWS Region to each customer. Ensure that each entry in Amazon Route 53 is unique.C. Create customer accounts within AWS Organizations specifying consolidated billing features.D. Create a separate VPC for each customer. Use security groups to isolate traffic.Answer: C

NEW QUESTION: 2A. Option B. Option C. Option D. Option A*Answer: DExplanation:APIPA stands for Automatic Private IP Addressing and is a feature of Windows operating systems. When a client computer is configured to use automatic addressing (DHCP), APIPA assigns a class B IP address from 169.254.0.0 to 169.254.255.255 to the client when a DHCP server is unavailable. When a client computer configured to use DHCP boots up, it first looks for a DHCP server to provide the client with IP address and subnet mask. If the client is unable to contact a DHCP server, it uses APIPA to automatically configure itself with an IP address from a range that has been reserved especially for Microsoft. The client also configures itself with a default class B subnet mask of 255.255.0.0. The client will use the self-configured IP address until a DHCP server becomes available.
