B. Cisco Unified Communications Manager allows BFCP only over UDP.
C. BFCP is not supported through Cisco Unified Border Element.
D. BFCP is not supported for third-party endpoints.
E. BFCP is supported between Cisco Unified Communications Manager and a TelePresence MCU.
59 / 162
The safer , easier way to help you pass any IT exams.
Answer: A,B Explanation:

Explanation/Reference: Explanation: BFCP configuration tips To enable BFCP in Cisco Unified Communications Manager, check the Allow Presentation Sharing using BFCP check box in the SIP Profile Configuration window. If the check box is unchecked, all BFCP offers will be rejected. By default, the check box is unchecked. BFCP is supported only on full SIP networks. For presentation sharing to work, BFCP must be enabled for all SIP endpoints as well as all SIP lines and SIP trunks between the endpoints. CUCM uses BFCP over user datagram protocol (UDP) in both secure and non-secure BFCP modes.

NEW QUESTION: 4 When executed on a HSRP group member named Router 10, what effect does the following command have?
Router10(config-if)# standby 1 track serial0 25
A. It will cause the router to decrement its HSRP priority by 25 if Serial 0 goes down
B. It will cause the router to notify Router 25 if serial 0 goes down
C. It will cause the router to increase its HSRP priority by 25 if the Serial0 interface on the standby router goes down
D. It will cause the router to shut down the Serial0 interface if 25 packets have been dropped
Answer: A
Explanation:
Explanation/Reference: Explanation: This command will cause the router to decrement its HSRP priority by 25 if Serial 0 goes down. Interface tracking can be configured in Hot Standby Routing Protocol (HSRP) groups to switch traffic to the standby router if an interface goes down on the active router. This is accomplished by having the active router track its interface. If that interface goes down, the router will decrement its HSRP priority by the value configured in the command. When properly configured, this will cause the standby router to have a higher HSRP priority, allowing it to become the active router and to begin serving traffic. When the standby router in an HSRP group is not taking over the active role when the active router loses its tracked interface, it is usually a misconfigured decrement value, such that the value does not lower the HSRP priority of the active router far enough for the standby to have a superior priority value. The command will not cause the router to increase its HSRP priority by 25 if the Serial0 interface on the standby router goes down. HSRP routers track their own interfaces, not those of another router. The command will not cause the router to shut down the Serial0 interface if 25 packets have been dropped. It will only do this if the link becomes unavailable. The command will not cause the router to notify Router 25 if serial 0 goes down. The number 25 in the command is the decrement value, not the ID of another router.
Objective: Infrastructure Services
Sub-Objective: Configure and verify first-hop redundancy protocols
