NEW QUESTION: 1 SAML entities can operate in a variety of different roles. Valid SAML roles include which of the following?
A. Service provider and administrator
B. Attribute authority and certificate authority
C. Certificate authority and attribute requestor
D. Identity provider and service provider
Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 2 You were just hired as a DevOps Engineer for a startup. Your startup uses AWS for 100% of their infrastructure. They currently have no automation at all for deployment, and they have had many failures while trying to deploy to production. The company has told you deployment process risk mitigation is the most important thing now, and you have a lot of budget for tools and AWS resources. Their stack includes a 2-tier API with data stored in DynamoDB or S3, depending on type. The Compute layer is EC2 in Auto Scaling Groups. They use Route53 for DNS pointing to an ELB. An ELB balances load across the EC2 instances. The scaling group properly varies between 4 and 12 EC2 servers. Which of the following approaches, given this company's stack and their priorities, best meets the company's needs?
A. Model the stack in AWS Elastic Beanstalk as a single Application with multiple Environments. Use Elastic Beanstalk's Rolling Deploy option to progressively roll out application code changes when promoting across environments.
B. Model the stack in three CloudFormation templates: Data layer, compute layer, and networking layer. Write stack deployment and integration testing automation following Blue-Green methodologies.
C. Model the stack in AWS OpsWorks as a single Stack, with 1 compute layer and its associated ELB. Use Chef and App Deployments to automate Rolling Deployment.
D. Model the stack in 1 CloudFormation template, to ensure consistency and dependency graph resolution. Write deployment and integration testing automation following Rolling Deployment methodologies.
Answer: B
Explanation: Here you are using 2 of the best practices for deployment, one is Blue Green Deployments and the other is using Nested CloudFormation stacks. The AWS Documentation mentions the below on nested stacks As your infrastructure grows, common patterns can emerge in which you declare the same components in each of your templates. You can separate out these common components and create dedicated templates for them. That way, you can mix and match different templates but use nested stacks to create a single, unified stack. Nested stacks are stacks that create other stacks. To create nested stacks, use the `AWS::CloudFormation::Stack` resource in your template to reference other templates. NEW QUESTION: 3 Williams, Inc. is interested in measuring its overall cost of capital and has gathered the following data. Under the terms described below, the company can sell unlimited amounts of all instruments. Williams can raise cash by selling $1,000, 8 percent, 20-year bonds with annual interest payments. In selling the issue, an average premium of $30 per bond would be received, and the firm must pay floatation costs of $30 per bond. The after-tax cost of funds is estimated to be 4.8 percent. Williams can sell 8 percent preferred stock at par value, $105 per share. The cost of issuing and selling the preferred stock is expected to be $5 per share. Williams' common stock is currently selling for $100 per share. The firm expects to pay cash dividends of $7 per share next year, and the dividends are expected to remain constant. The stock will have to be underpriced by $3 per share, and floatation costs are expected to amount to $5 per share. Williams expects to have available $100,000 of retained earnings in the coming year; once these retained earnings are exhausted, the firm will use new common stock as the form of common stock equity financing. Williams' preferred capital structure is: Long-term debt 30% Preferred stock 20% Common stock 50% If Williams, Inc. needs a total of $1,000,000, the firm's weighted-average cost of capital would be: A. 6.5 percent. B. 9.1 percent. C. 4.8 percent. D. 6.8 percent. Answer: D Explanation: Choice "a" is correct. 6.8%. This question pertains to the manner in which changes in the required amount of capital will impact the weighted average cost of capital governed by the target capital structure. The rates are given, and you must derive the weights. The company needs a total of $1,000,000. The total Retained Earnings is $100,000, which will only represent 10% of the total amount needed. In J92-1.01, we computed the cost of new common share issues at 7.6%, and we know that we can issue unlimited amounts of each security. Based on these assumptions, we know that the target capital structure will remain unchanged but that the components of common equity will be priced differently because Retained Earnings only equals $100/$1,000 (or 10%). If the target capital structure calls for 50% common stock and only 10% is available from retained earnings, then 40% must come from the issuance of new common shares. The weighted average is computed as follows: Choices "b", "c", and "d" are incorrect, per the above calculation.
