NEW QUESTION: 1 Which type of echo is found mostly on tail circuits and is due to reflection that causes the Tx signal to appear on the Rx signal?
A. Talker echo
B. Hybrid echo
C. Listener echo
D. Tail-end echo
Answer: B
Explanation: Introduction This document describes how to troubleshoot and eliminate echo where possible in IP Telephony networks with Cisco IOS@ gateways. There are two sources of echo:
* Hybrid echo
* Acoustic echo
Hybrid echo is caused by an impedance mismatch in the hybrid circuit, such as a two-wire to four-wire interface. This mismatch causes the Tx signal to appear on the Rx signal. Acoustic echo is caused by poor acoustic isolation between the earpiece and the microphone in handsets and hands-free devices.

NEW QUESTION: 2 다중 AZ Amazon RDS 장애 조치가 발생할 수 있는 조건은 무엇입니까? (2 개를 선택하십시오.)

NEW QUESTION: 3 Your company has a main office and a branch office. You discover that when you disable IPv4 on a computer in the branch office, the computer authenticates by using a domain controller in the main office. You need to ensure that IPv6-only computers authenticate to domain controllers in the same site. What should you do?
A. Configure the NTDS Site Settings object.
B. Install an Intra-Site Automatic Tunnel Addressing Protocol (ISATAP) router.
C. Create Active Directory subnet objects.
D. Create Active Directory Domain Services connection objects.
Answer: C
Explanation: IPv4 was disabled on the computer, forcing it to use IPv6 only. Because it authenticated against a domain controller in the main office, however, we can conclude that the branch office isn't completely setup for IPv6 yet. So we would have to use subnet objects in AD to force each office to authenticate against local site DC's. ISATAP tunnels IPv6 traffic over IPv4 networks, but the main office network clearly handles IPv6 fine. NTDS Site Settings and AD connection objects are used for configuring AD replication and topology.
