Scoring occur in the background while you complete the rest of the exam. Overview The following section of the exam is a lab. In this section, you will perform a set of tasks in a live environment. While most functionality will be available to you as it would be in a live environment, some functionality (e.g., copy and paste, ability to navigate to external websites) will not be possible by design. Scoring is based on the outcome of performing the tasks stated in the lab. In other words, it doesn't matter how you accomplish the task, if you successfully perform it, you will earn credit for that task. Labs are not timed separately, and this exam may have more than one lab that you must complete. You can use as much time as you would like to complete each lab. But, you should manage your time appropriately to ensure that you are able to complete the lab(s) and all other sections of the exam in the time provided. NEW QUESTION: 2 Your network contains an Active Directory domain named contoso.com. The domain contains a server named Server1 that runs Windows Server 2008 R2. You plan to test Windows Server 2012 by using native-boot virtual hard disks (VHDs). You attach a new VHD to Server1. You need to install Windows Server 2102 in the VHD. What should you do?
A. Run `dism.exe` and specify the `/append-image` parameter.
B. Run `imagex.exe` and specify the `/export` parameter.
C. Run `imagex.exe` and specify the `/append` parameter.
D. Run `dism.exe` and specify the `/apply-image` parameter.
Answer: D
Explanation: `ImageX` is included in the Windows Automated Installation Kit or WAIK for short. As of Windows 8's release `ImageX` has been deprecated. The imaging functionality has been added to the `dism` tool. `DISM` stands for "Deployment Image Servicing and Management"
`Dism /Append-Image /ImageFile:install.wim /CaptureDir:D: /Name:Drive-D`
`Dism /Apply-Image /ImageFile:d:my-image.wim /index:1 /ApplyDir:c:`
What is native VHD boot? Native VHD boot enables a physical computer to be booted directly from a virtual hard disk (VHD) with no requirement for virtualization software (such as Microsoft® Virtual PC or Hyper-V). Native VHD boot is made possible with the addition of a mini-port driver that is responsible for all input/output (IO) operations to and from the disk. Earlier versions of Windows (such as Windows Vista®, Windows XP, and Windows 2000) do not support native VHD boot, and therefore, you cannot use them to implement the functionality described in this document.

With the introduction of native VHD boot, it is possible to achieve a single image deployment strategy for both physical and virtual machines. As long as the operating system that resides on the VHD is generalized and hosts Windows 7 Enterprise, Windows 7 Ultimate, or Windows Server 2008 R2 (all editions), the VHD can be used in both environments. To make a VHD available for use (either one you have just created or another existing VHD), on the Action menu, select Attach VHD, and then specify the location of the VHD, using a fully qualified path.
