NEW QUESTION: 1あなたはMicrosoft SQL Server環境でのデータベース管理者です。

あなたは少なくとも5つの異なるSQL

Serverインスタンスへのワークロードをスケールアウトする新しいアプリケーションを配備したいと思います。

あなたはデータベースのコピーごとに、ユーザーはデータベースのすべてのインスタンス間で同期されるデータを読み書きすることが可能であることを確認する必要があります。

どの機能を使用すべきか。A. peer-to-peer replicationB. database auditsC. snapshot replication

D. failover clusteringAnswer: A*Explanation:ExplanationPeer-to-peer replication provides a scale-out and high-availability solution by maintaining copies of data across multiple server instances, also referred to as nodes. Built on the foundation of transactional replication, peer-to-peer replication propagates transactionally consistent changes in near real-time. This enables applications that require scale-out of read operations to distribute the reads from clients across multiple nodes. Because data is maintained across the nodes in near real-time, peer-to-peer replication provides data redundancy, which increases the availability of data. Although peer-to-peer replication enables scaling out of read operations, write performance for the topology is like that for a single node. References:

Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Testlet 1 General overview Relecloud is an international data services company that has 1000 users. The company has a sales department, a marketing department, a research department, and a human resources department. Physical locations Relecloud has one office in Seattle. The company has customers throughout North America and Europe. Relecloud has most of its computing infrastructure located in a datacenter in Los Angeles. The company also has a few servers that are configured as Microsoft Azure virtual machines. Existing Environment Active Directory The network contains an Active Directory forest named relecloud.com. The forest contains two domains named relecloud.com and relecloud.local. The functional level of the domain is Windows Server 2008 R2. Each office contains five domain controllers. Each office is configured as an Active Directory site. Current business model Relecloud maintains a single Microsoft SQL Server database named Database1. Database1 hosts all of the data for the customers of Relecloud. Database1 has a total of 600 GB of data. Relecloud provides data for its customers by using several methods of delivery, such as comma-separated value (CSV) files and fixed-width text files. All of the files are delivered by using File Transfer Protocol (FTP) or Secure (SFTP). The SQL Server environment contains two on-premises servers and one server in the Azure region of US West. The Azure infrastructure contains an ExpressRoute connection. The network contains the SQL servers configured as shown in the following table: ServerDB1 and ServerDB2 are members of an availability group. Problem statements Relecloud identifies several issues with its current data storage model. Multiple customers report that they have issues loading files into relational databases. Additionally, Relecloud administrators often fail to communicate with the FTP servers of the Relecloud customers. Currently, the memory and the CPU of ServerDB1 and ServerDB2 are nearly fully utilized. Requirements Business goals Relecloud plans to take a leadership role in its industry and modernize its delivery method. The company also plans to offer its customers easier access to its data. Planned changes Relecloud plans to move all of its customers to a delivery model that uses Azure SQL Database and plans to maintain a single database for each customer. Relecloud plans to automate the process of creating the required infrastructure for each new customer, including the process of loading data to the customer databases. Relecloud plans to onboard 30 new customer accounts during the next year. The data for the new customers is approximately 10 GB and has a static size. The new customers require a rapid response time to database queries and each customer has five to 10 concurrent logins. Security requirements Relecloud identifies the following requirements: Customers must be able to read data only. Customers must be able to create custom views. Customers must be able to use two-factor authentication when accessing Azure SQL databases. Technical requirements Relecloud identifies the following technical requirements: Database administrators must be notified when the CPU pressure of AzDB01 exceeds 80 percent. If ServerDB0 and ServerDB2 fail, AzDB01 must be able to respond to customer requests for data. Auditing requirements Relecloud identifies the following requirements: All of the requests from the stored procedures that are run against the Azure SQL databases must be logged. All auditing information must be viewable in Microsoft Excel in real-time.
