NEW QUESTION: 2This passage discusses the work of Abe Kobo, a Japanese novelist of the twentieth century.Abe Kobo is one of the great writers of postwar Japan. His literature is richer, less predictable, and wider-ranging than that of his famed contemporaries, Mishima Yukio and Nobel laureate Oe Kenzaburo. It is infused with the passion and strangeness of his experiences in Manchuria, which was a Japanese colony on mainland China before World War II.Abe spent his childhood and much of his youth in Manchuria, and, as a result, the orbit of his work would be far less controlled by the oppressive gravitational pull of the themes of furusato (hometown) and the emperor than his contemporaries'.Abe, like most of the sons of Japanese families living in Manchuria, did return to Japan for schooling. He entered medical school in Tokyo in 1944--just in time to forge himself a medical certificate claiming ill health; this allowed him to avoid fighting in the war that Japan was already losing and return to Manchuria.When Japan lost the war, however, it also lost its Manchurian colony. The Japanese living there were attacked by the Soviet Army and various guerrilla bands. They suddenly found themselves refugees, desperate for food. Many unfit men were abandoned in the Manchurian desert. At this apocalyptic time, Abe lost his father to cholera.He returned to mainland Japan once more, where the young were turning to Marxism as a rejection of the militarism of the war. After a brief, unsuccessful stint at medical school, he became part of a Marxist group of avant-garde artists. His work at this time was passionate and outspoken on political matters, adopting black humor as its mode of critique. During this time, Abe worked in the genres of theater, music, and photography. Eventually, he mimeographed fifty copies of his first "published" literary work, entitled Anonymous Poems, in 1947. It was a politically charged set of poems dedicated to the memory of his father and friends who had died in Manchuria. Shortly thereafter, he published his first novel, For a Signpost at the End of a Road, which imagined another life for his best friend who had died in the Manchurian desert. Abe was also active in the Communist Party, organizing literary groups for workingmen.Unfortunately, most of this radical early work is unknown outside Japan and underappreciated even in Japan. In early 1962, Abe was dismissed from the Japanese Liberalist Party. Four months later, he published the work that would blind us to his earlier oeuvre, Woman in the Dunes. It was director Teshigahara Hiroshi's film adaptation of Woman in the Dunes that brought Abe's work to the international stage. The movie's fame has wrongly led readers to view the novel as Abe's masterpiece. It would be more accurate to say that the novel simply marked a turning point in his career, when Abe turned away from the experimental and heavily political work of his earlier career. Fortunately, he did not then turn to furusato and the emperor after all, but rather began a somewhat more realistic exploration of his continuing obsession with homelessness and alienation. Not completely a stranger to his earlier commitment to Marxism, Abe turned his attention, beginning in the sixties, to the effects on the individual of Japan's rapidly urbanizing, growth-driven, increasingly corporate society. The author's attitude toward Marxism can best be described as A. reverent espousal. B. respectful interest. C. skeptical tolerance. D. restrained impatience. E. contemptuous derision. Answer: B Explanation: The author of this passage does express many strong opinions, but not in regard to Marxism. You can therefore eliminate both A. and (B). If anything, she/he is more positive than negative about the influence of Marxism on Abe's work. Eliminate C. and (E), which imply a negative bias. The answer is (D).

The company produces materials and chemicals that are used in the production of gasoline. Contoso has recently acquired several smaller companies including A). Datum, Litware, Inc., and Northwind Traders. Contoso has now grown from a local company to a company that has offices in multiple geographies. The company has the following offices: Corporate structure Contoso is divided into business units based on their function primarily, and then by geographic region. The corporate language is English. Contoso has a major datacenter that is located near their Dallas facilities. A). Datum Corporation has a contract with a third-party datacenter in London, England. Contoso intends to move their environment fully to the cloud in the future, and will use SQL Databases in the cloud for business continuity. Contoso has, up until recently, handled all collaboration between employees using a single file share, email, USB flash drives, and local storage. With a growing need for global cooperation and collaboration, Contoso has elected to implement a SharePoint environment. You must minimize the cost for the solution. SharePoint environment* Each business functional group requires a unique site collection. You must create child site collections for each geographical region that is part of the business functional group.* The SharePoint taxonomy must follow the corporate structure.* All existing corporate content must be migrated to the new SharePoint 2016 environment.* The SharePoint environment must be accessible to all employees 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, and 365 days a year. Data* You must retain all records for compliance reasons.* You must share sales data by using Microsoft Excel. The sales data must be available online.* The Beijing office must be able to share information to external partners. Employee requirements* Employees must only use SharePoint Designer to edit SharePoint pages.* Employees must be able to edit Excel workbooks in a browser.* Employees must have access to PowerPivot. Editing of SharePoint pages Contoso has decided that they will allow employees to edit SharePoint 2016 pages only by using SharePoint Designer. Employees must edit pages in a development environment that is located in Dallas. Changes must be applied to the production environment by using a backup/restore operation on the individual site collection. The development environment is an exact replica of the production environment. Technical requirements SharePoint requirements You identify the following requirements for the SharePoint environment: Backup and disaster recovery* The environment must be backed up at all times. You must not permit the loss of more than one hour of data.* In the event of a disaster, the SharePoint environment must remain accessible to all employees. All disaster response and recovery plans and protocols will be available from the corporate SharePoint instance. The maximum acceptable downtime for the environment is four hours.* In the case of failure, you must be able to restore the environment to any point within three weeks before the failure. SharePoint farm* You must ensure that specific offices can share content with external partners.* You must log activities related to PowerPivot in the SharePoint usage logs.* You must implement Search services from the on-premises farm.Deployment guidelinesYou have the following guidelines and protocols for implementing the SharePoint environment:* You must install and configure all servers in an identical way.* You must provision all site collections by using the SPSite.Copy method at the content database level. You must use reproducible and traceable methods to provisions sites.* You must track information about SharePoint installations in Active Directory DomainServices.* You must specify different service accounts for each service application.* Users in the Dallas test environment must be able to create content databases on demand.Planned environmentsYou plan to implement the following environments:Monitoring and managementYou must implement monitoring for the following aspects of the SharePoint solution:* SecurityYou must be notified if administrator accounts are used to run application pools or if the server farm account is used for other services.* PerformanceYou must monitor database index fragmentation and whether the paging file size is sufficient.* AvailabilityYou must monitor free space on drives and receive an alert if a drive is running out of space. You must also be notified if one or more servers are not responding.* SharePoint page performanceYou must monitor the manufacturing, trading, and finance instances in Beijing for the any performance issues. You must also log attempts to connect to the instances from locations outside of the corporate network.* Connectivity between Office 365 and the on-premises SharePoint 2016 environment You must monitor connectivity between the two environments.Contoso is concerned that unauthorized users may gain access to sensitive information.You must log any attempts to access sensitive information. The company is especially interested in the logging the following actions:* attempts to open documents that contain personal information* editing sensitive documents* printing sensitive documents
