NEW QUESTION: 2ScenarioVericom is a leading provider of government, business and consumer telecommunication services, and is currently seeking ways in which to improve its utilization of IT services to drive growth across its' multiple lines of business. One of the largest organizations in the United Kingdom, Vericom is comprised of the following business units: Verinet (providing ADSL, cable, 3GSM, dialup and satellite services)Infrastructure Services (planning, installing and maintaining the PSTN and mobile network infrastructure)VericomTV (Pay TV)Consumer Sales and Marketing (including 400 Vericom retail outlets)Business and GovernmentFinance and AdministrationInformation Technology Services (Shared Service Unit, however some business units also have their own internal service provider)Human Resources Vericom Wholesale (for wholesale of Vericom infrastructure services)Due to the extensive scope of infrastructure deployed and large employee and customer base, Vericom continues to rely on legacy systems for some critical IT services; however this is seen as a barrier to future organizational growth and scalability of services offered. The CIO of Vericom has also raised the concern that while improvements to the technology utilized is important, this also needs to be supported by quality IT Service Management practices employed by the various IT departments.The project of improving the IT Service Management practices employed by Vericom has been outsourced to external consultants who are aware of the major IT refresh that is going to be occurring over the next 24 months.Refer to the scenario.With Vericom being a large organization (approximately 40 000 staff), some of the business units have developed their own internal IT departments to supplement the services provided by the centralized Information Technology Services (ITS) department. This has occurred due to the specialized needs and requirements for technology, specifically Verinet, VericomTV and Consumer Sales and Marketing. While the decision has been made that this organizational structure is to remain in place, there has been identified issues relating to a lack of consistency in IT Service Management processes used by the different departments and unclear boundaries for the responsibilities of the various IT Service Desks. This has resulted in: End users calling the wrong Service Desk, requiring the call to be redirected to the appropriate group. Inconsistency in the categorization and classification of service requests, incidents and problems, causing confusion and frustration when there are multiple IT departments involved. Known Errors being recorded internally within the various IT departments, which may in fact have a wider impact on the whole organization when these are not visible to everyone. Inconsistency in the Service Management systems and tools used for handling service requests, incidents, problems and Known Errors.

From the following responses, which BEST represents the approach you would take to overcome the issues described above?

A: You realize a coordinated approach is the best method, including: The development of the ITS Service Desk to be the single point of contact for ALL end user (internal) queries. This will be performed over a 6 month period, to take account for any training and transfer of knowledge that needs to occur. This Service Desk will then escalate to the appropriate second line group (from any of the IT departments) as required. Develop consistency across all departments for categories and priority coding systems used for all service requests, incidents and problems. Build or purchase a consistent service management tool that will be used by all IT departments for managing incidents, problems, Known Errors and service requests. Holding regular review sessions involving staff from each of the IT departments to discuss current issues, recurring and potential problems future initiatives.

B: You realize a phased approach is the best method, including four phases: Phase 1 - Build or purchase a service management tool that will be used by all IT departments for managing incidents, problems and service requests. Phase 2 - Standardize the use of ITIL processes used by the ITS department across all IT departments at Vericom. Phase 3 - Deliver training and awareness sessions for staff regarding the importance of the processes and how they should be used. Phase 4 - Review the success of the project and pass any lessons learnt onto future projects.

C: You realize a coordinated approach is the best method, including: Developing a telephone system that will route calls to the appropriate Service Desk based on the user's input. This should also provide the capability for a Service Desk analyst to call them back during peak periods. Develop consistency in all the categories assigned to service requests, incidents and problems across all IT departments. Build or purchase a service management tool that will be used by all IT departments for managing incidents, problems, Known Errors and service requests. Hold regular review sessions involving key staff from each of the IT departments to discuss current issues and potential problems.

D: You realize that improving the business awareness of IT is most important, and address the issues by: Identifying the training requirements of end users to improve their use of IT services. Implement an online Service Catalogue for all IT Services, with self-help capabilities to log and track incidents, problems and service requests. Assist Service Level Management in improving the visibility of the IT organization in general, and identify areas of customer satisfaction that need improving. Build or purchase a service management tool that will be used by all IT departments and end users for managing incidents, problems, Known Errors and service requests.
